The State pattern is typically used when a finite state machine defines the class’ behavior.

The State pattern has a structure similar to other patterns but the intent tells it apart from others.

!FSM image from: http://gallery.hd.org